Amenity spaces inspire, invite, and invigorate

From the ground floor to the top floor, T6 is designed with a robust package of amenity spaces. On the north end, food and beverage spaces invite people into the block, where a fitness center, bike storage and a host of other retail spaces await. On the top floor, there is space for additional food and beverage, and an outdoor terrace offers areas for relaxation and connection for those working in the towers.

A full amenities package that includes

Connecting people, spaces and ideas

The T6 campus is sited on 1.8 acres that will total 600,000 square feet consisting of two 8 and 9-story elegantly curving towers, a design that reflects the curves found in the world-renowned architecture surrounding the property. The cross-block landscaped path between the buildings will act as a gateway linking the SLU and Seattle Center neighborhoods, maximize the use of natural light and multiply the views toward Seattle Center, the Puget Sound and Lake Union.

T6 is at the center of it all

T6 will be positioned where the Arts and Sciences merge, surrounded by some of the world's most influential companies and iconic locations. Just steps away from Seattle Center and in the shadow of the famous Space Needle, T6 is surrounded by acres of outdoor park space. Seattle Center boasts Climate Pledge Arena, home of the NHL's Seattle Kraken, the MoPoP, Chihuly Museum, McCaw Opera Hall, and Seattle Repertory Theatre.
